Future Leadership Program in Product Supply (m/f)

YOUR TASKS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

This international program aims to provide high potential graduates (m/f) with a broad overview about the scope of activities and responsibilities in pharmaceutical manufacturing at Bayer AG. It will serve as a launch platform into your managerial career at Product Supply. Together with your mentor you will identify and realize your individual “best-fit” career and grow into your first leadership role.

The 24-month program with flexible starting dates includes:

- Rotations in pharmaceutical products manufacturing, contract manufacturing, supply chain management and quality assurance
- Participating in and/or managing projects within these functional units
- Local assignments in Leverkusen and Berlin
- An international assignment e.g. in Finland, Brazil, Switzerland or the USA
- Management and leadership training modules
- Mentoring by an experienced Bayer senior manager

WHO YOU ARE

- University graduate (m/f) in Pharmacy (diploma, master, PhD, pharmaceutical license/optional) or Chemistry/Biology (PhD) with excellent grades
- Experience in either pharmaceutical technology, analytics, compliance, regulatory affairs or manufacturing
- Previous experience abroad is highly desired; experience in the pharmaceutical industry is an advantage
- Strong leadership ambition and willingness to go the extra mile
- Outstanding strategic and analytic thinking as well as excellent organizational skills
- Highly goal-oriented paired with passion to develop and implement innovative ideas
- Exceptional communication and collaboration skills
- Fluency in business English, knowledge of the German language is a plus
